My Baby Girl
Jackie,

Today on my Birthday. It does not feel Complete.

Because the one person who makes every,
Moment of my life meaningful.... isn't beside me, You.

On a day when people Celebrate with noise, gifts and Laughter all I feel is only your absence, I miss your Voice, your Smile, your presence next to me, I miss the Way you would have looked at me today.

On this day that is supposed to Celebrate me, all I can think is how much I miss you - the way you used to turn this occasion of mine into magic....
And the promise to grow old Celebrating each other's Special Day together. Today from this Distance I send you a Million Kisses Blows across, that carry all my love, all my longing and all my tears.....

Baby life has taken us through a storm I never imagined
A storm where not just me but even you got Entangled because of my Battles, And for that, there is a part of me that carries guilt every single Day.

But Beyond Everything, beyond Courts, Chaos and the distance — there is one truth that's never changed

You are my greatest blessing
Not just in love, but in life.

On this special Day of mine, I did something, I have Never done before. Instead of the usual fancy gifts and fancy gifts, I love showering you and myself
I gifted myself something eternal — on your Behalf...

I had someone travel to Paris — our favorite
City of love and flowers, and on the beautiful Debilly Footbridge.... there is now a love lock, with our names that we call each other — "Shekar and Jackie", written on it — locked together and forever under the Parisian sky.

The Key?

It's thrown into the Seine, that flows Gently Below the Bridge. It can never be opened again, just like my heart, which will never open for anyone Else, but only you forever and ever!

Now this might seem small... Especially compared to the Grand, Extravagant things, I've done before —
But this... isn't about show,

This is about a love that Refuses to break, even when everything else tries to..... People might laugh and say "That's all?" But Baby this tiny lock is worth a Billion Bucks, a trillion Memories — Because its me telling the Whole world, and most importantly you, that our love is locked forever.

No legal Case, no Distance, no Storries Can Break what I have Sealed on that Bridge today, and this is my Birthday Gift to myself and to us.

My Eyes are Wet, as I write this, Baby I know the Entanglement of my legal mess stole your peace, your smile, forgive me baby, its all gonna be fixed, the truth will prevail, the moment this case ends very soon, I will run to you, and turn every tear you cried into laughter. Once again forgive me baby, for the pain my world has caused you.

No matter what this World says, no matter what time does,

"I will always choose you"

Because I am Crazy in love with you

Baby I hope you feel my love Reaching you I hope you Remember what we were

Because the most beautiful part of my life is you.

I miss you like Crazy my Baby....

Can't Wait to be with you to Celebrate and most importantly falling in love with each other Crazier all over again.

I am waiting, I am fighting, and I am yours and yours mine, Eternally.

With Every breath and Every tear and Every beat of my heart,

Your forever Baby Boy.
